

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

There was a light voter turnout Tuesday all across Alabama. Coffee County was in step with the balance of Alabama, with about 25 percent of the voters even bothering to vote. Walter Mondale got the most votes locally, but it sure wasn't a mandate. Rev. Jesse Jackson got a respectable vote in the state, but this will have little to do with his staying or not staying in the race. Our opinion is that Jackson will stay - right into the Democratic convention, as he works to have some input into the party platform and sorting out of vice-presidential candidates.

Some of our faithful readers expressed disappointment that we failed to publish a sample ballot in last week's Elba Clipper. We are guilty as charged, but thought our reasons were proper. The thing about the interest so small - we decided not to waste the space. We offer our apologies to those who were inconvenienced and will remember those comments the next time we have that decision to make.

We were reading a magazine article this week about a study done on the operation of the federal government. This study was done by private business and at no cost to the government. The finding of this very qualified commission is shocking! It showed for example that one letter requiring the signature of the Secretary of Health and Human Services took 47 days to prepare and involved from 55 to 60 people. Now that is a case of dividing up the work . . . and also our tax dollars. This group of successful business managers found that $424 billion could be saved over the next three years by using the recommendations for cuts in mismanagement and waste, and with some reorganizing of duplicated functions in existing departments. Since it was only a few years ago that the headlines read that the federal government was spending over $100 billion, and the figure has now reached $800 billion and still climbing, we need to listen to these savings suggestions.

Only two states are needed to require the U.S. Congress to cut the annual spending back to create a balanced budget. Thirty-two states have already called for such action, and others are expected to follow. Then Congress would have to get a two-thirds majority to borrow any more than is already authorized. We support this action but foresee much anguish as people who are accustomed to eating out of the public trough go back and find the feed bin is empty. It will make the seat hot for politicians, but then some of them need a little fire lit under them occasionally.

Spring is here . . . flowers are blooming, pretty girls have dug out their shorts and the fish are biting! With AEA holidays on us this week, the weather has cooperated and the temperature is bordering on the 80-degree mark with plenty of sunshine. Next week a happy group of teachers and students will return to the classroom thrilled to study and pass out 100's on all tests.

Speaking of teachers - we have had several threatening to take us out behind the barn, etc. When they give their reason as being the fact we have spoken out against their getting a pay raise, we challenge them to prove it. Then some say, "Well, you implied it." Again we deny such action. We only said something to the effect that if the "Plan for Excellence" only resulted in a pay raise for teachers, there would be some upset people. There are teachers who don't deserve that they are already being paid - just as in any other profession - but almost all the ones who are talking to us about the plan and the pay raise fall in the group that would get more money on anyone's scale if raises were passed out on a merit system.

We would like to see some sort of merit pay system in Alabama, but have not yet seen one that would completely eliminate the buddy system of rewarding "those who are our friends", or at least don't challenge anything said by the boss. Any time two or more people agree all the time, at least one of them is not thinking.

The Florida Supreme Court has said it is okay to sue a liquor store that sold beer or whiskey to a minor who was later involved in an accident. There is much grasping of the teeth over that ruling, but we only hear it from folks who might now or later be guilty of such action. We fail to see where anyone could complain about being punished for breaking a law that they knew they were breaking all the time.

In Massachusetts, folks are getting more and more excited over the state-sponsored lottery. This week people are splitting $18.2 million they won in a lucky number lottery that is proving very profitable for the state tax collector. The size of the payoff indicates how slim the chances of winning really are, and we fear that millions of people are sitting there with dreams of winning their fortune instead of finding a way to work for it. We don't oppose the lottery if it is kept in perspective, but we doubt this is possible with millions of people involved.

The wedding is planned for April 7, 1984 at 7 p.m. at Piney Grove Baptist Church in Samson, Alabama. No local invitations are being sent, but all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

A young girl came in from school, flung her books down and in a burst of anger, said, "I hate Mrs. Jones; she's the worst teacher I've ever had."

What is love? Love is one of those valuable words of deep meaning. In recent years, however, we have allowed it to come into disrepute through careless use. Today love may mean anything from affection for children to a taste for ice cream to sexual activity to complimenting someone's new car.

True love has been defined as "meeting the needs of another without expecting anything in return." Though that may not be the best definition, it sounds good and it sounds like it might be easy. Saying it though is a lot easier than "acting on it."

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Miley announce the birth of a daughter, Jessica Marie, on March 6, 1984, at 12:43 p.m. in a Troy hospital. The new arrival weighed 6 lbs. 10½ ozs. and measured 19 inches long.

Grandparents are Earl Miley, Nore, Louisiana; Ethel Miley, Hoxie, Kansas; Louise Spear, Jack, and measured 19 inches long. Jessica has a brother, Timothy, age 6.

Julie Mauldin and Sherrie Donaldson of Elba, Alabama, have been initiated into Delta Delta Delta at Auburn University.

Members present were Mrs. Kirk Allred, Mrs. M.O. Bruckner, Mrs. J.R. Clark, Mrs. Oswald Dowling, Mrs. A.B. Cowart, Miss Jeannette Garrett, Mrs. Durrell Hudson, Mrs. L.F. Inman, Mrs. T.D. IT'S EASIER SAID THAN DONE LOVE is one of those things that is easier said than done. I know some people who say they love everyone; yet I have been around them enough to know that there are some people they really do not love by their own words.

News From Elba High School

Cheerleader Try Outs Held

The 1984-85 varsity cheerleader try-outs were held Tuesday, March 6, and once again 10 girls were selected to cheer for the Elba Tigers.

Cheerleaders selected were Jill Maddox, Dawn Smith, Camilla Blasi, Lannon Lowery, Starla Henderson, Sharon Siler, Stephanie Crittenden, Regina Hudson, Jennifer Hudson and Paula Adkins.

Jill Maddox, who will be a sophomore next fall, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Maddox. Jill served as captain of the 1983-84 Jr. High Cheerleaders.

Dawn Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith, will be in her third year cheering for the Elba Tigers. Dawn served as captain of the varsity squad this past year.

Camilla Blasi, is the daughter of Mrs. Mavis Blasi and she will be a sophomore next fall. Being a cheerleader will be new for Camilla since she has been a member of the band since the beginning of Jr. High.

Lannon Lowery, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Lowery and she too will be a sophomore next fall. Cheering will not be new to Lannon, however, she has been a member of the Jr. High squad for several years and served as co-captain this past year.

Starla Henderson, will be the only junior on the squad next fall.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Henderson and she too is new to the squad.

Sharon Siler, is the daughter of Mrs. Doshie Siler and she will be a member of the senior class next fall. Sharon cheered one year for the Jr. High team.

Stephanie Crittenden, who will be a sophomore next fall, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Crittenden and she has been a Jr. cheerleader for several years.

Regina Hudson, is the daughter of Bobby and Barbara Hudson and she will be a member of the senior class. This will be Regina's first year as a cheerleader.

Jennifer Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hudson, will also be a senior next fall and she is one of the two varsity cheerleaders returning to the squad.

Paula Adkins, will be a sophomore next fall and she is the daughter of Elcie Adkins. Paula will be new to the squad.

This squad will make it three in a row that Elba has had ten cheerleaders. It has worked out well in the past. Elba had seven seniors girls not to return and one junior who elected not to try out. But with the experience these new girls have you can expect to have another great squad.

Little Miss Elba Contest

The 1984 Edition of the annual Little Miss Elba is an event scheduled for Thursday, April 12, in the high school auditorium. This annual event is sponsored by the Elba Lions Club and all the proceeds will be used to support sight conservation projects.

All the young ladies, who will be participating in the pageant will be second graders next fall. The winner of the 1983 pageant Miss Lesley Creel will be featured in presenting the runners-up a gift and crowning the new Little Miss Elba.

The new Little Miss will then represent Elba in the Little Miss National Peanut Festival Pageant in Dothan later in the fall.

Knowledge Of Other Languages Helpful In Jobs

Because of the dominant position of the United States in world affairs, there is at present, and will continue to be in the foreseeable future, a demand for large numbers of men and women who are in command of a foreign language. In fact, the field is so wide that there is room not only for the expert with near-native competency in several languages, but also for the person who has but a hazy acquaintance with one foreign tongue. However great or meager one's knowledge of a foreign language may be, it is a cultural and vocational asset.

There is a wide range of jobs open to linguists, extending all the way from that of the bilingual stenographer or clerk to the highly skilled interpreter at the U.N. Positions are available in the business world, teaching and government service.

In order to further realize careers which require the study of a foreign language, the French II class recently completed their career education study. Their findings revealed that in the business world, export trade, international advertising, and engineering construction in foreign countries are the areas where knowledge of a language is especially useful. In government available positions are chiefly in the foreign service. On the whole, they are interesting and remunerative and in addition provide opportunities for travel. The State Department employs many civilians abroad, and because of the role of the U.S. in world affairs, the need for a large staff abroad undoubtedly will continue.

Each student in the class studied intensely a career that requires the study of a foreign language. The careers studied included pharmacy, architecture, broadcasting, law and medicine. In their study, they had to write a description of the profession, choose a college which offered such a study, determine the cost of the college education, determine the marketability of their profession upon the completion of their training, and define the projected salary for their profession. The students did their study in the library with the available resources, including the Apple computer.

The study concluded that, despite the drop in the number of students enrolling in four-year colleges, the study of foreign languages is still an important field of study.

During the last few years the outlook for study of foreign languages in the United States has not been very bright. Enrollments dropped drastically, largely because colleges and universities dropped the foreign language requirement for admission and for degrees. The situation became so alarming that it was pointed out to President Carter who appointed a Commission of Foreign Languages and International Studies. The commission set to work, and in October of 1979 submitted a report to the President,

Nadeau Speaks To Recent Elba BPW Club Meeting

The Elba Business and Professional Women's Club met March 12 in the community room of Elba Exchange Bank. Mrs. Sybil Hahn, president, presided, and refreshments were served to members and guests.

Mrs. Myrtle Sellers, first vice-president, introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Steve Nadeau, administrator of Elba General Hospital. Nadeau gave an informative presentation on the reasons health care is so expensive, and the changes in policies and procedures at Elba General Hospital.

"New high technology equipment and personnel to operate it is the primary cause of increase in health care," Nadeau said. He noted that two new doctors, a pharmacist and a dietician have been added to the hospital staff, and the entire facility has been rearranged and refurbished for more efficient and effective care of patients.

Minutes of the previous two meetings were read and approved, and treasurer's report given by Mrs. Mable Lawless. A motion was made by Carrie Jacobs and seconded by Myrtle Sellers to approve the transfer of BPW funds from the savings account to the checking account, and the motion carried.

A newsletter received by the president gave a report on the winter board meeting; the spring board meeting will be held March 25 at the Holiday Inn in Dothan. All members were reminded to bring their "Club Money Bags" to this meeting. As there was no other business, the meeting was adjourned.

SPORTS

VIEWS FROM

THE PRESSBOX

BY RICKY MULARZ, EDITOR

The local sports scene has slowed to a crawl this week; however, all the county schools will start spring training next week. Elba's Black and Gold game will be played Thursday night and the city recreation leagues will soon be taking the field. The pace will quicken very soon!

S.A.C. MEETING PROVES NEWSWORTHY

The South Alabama Conference held its spring meeting last week, and amidst talk of disbanding came through with some very interesting legislation.

Beginning next season, the eight schools in the conference will play each other in a round-robin basketball schedule to decide the regular season champ. In the home-and-home setup, each team will play 14 conference games during the season, as well as compete in a conference tourney. Teams in the conference include Elba, Opp, Andalusia, Brundridge, Florida, Troy, Luverne and Georgiana, and next year the champion will truly win the crown on the court.

A major supporter of the new schedule was Troy, a basketball power that has a hard time scheduling local teams. With the new schedule, its only trouble will be picking teams it must drop.

The idea of a round-robin schedule isn't bad, but I think the tourney should have been dropped. The schedule will provide a true champion, and since a team will only be able to play in one "seasonal" tourney next year, it all but dictates the schedule. Look for more changes at next year's meeting.

NCAA TOURNEY IS A TREAT

The NCAA basketball tournament will get underway this week and to true basketball fans like myself the "Road to Seattle" will be a real treat to watch. The local TV cable doesn't include the "sports" channels yet, but CBS will broadcast eight games a week, and that's about all my wife will let me watch anyway!

I took a long look at the bracket Monday and decided the tourney officials did a good job. The East tourney includes North Carolina, St. John's, Auburn, Indiana, Syracuse and Arkansas, while the Midwest includes Kentucky, Maryland, Illinois and Louisville. The West has Georgetown, Nevada-Las Vegas, Duke, LSU, Oklahoma and Texas-El Paso; and teams in the Midwest include Alabama, DePaul, Purdue and Houston. Quite a field! The brackets leave the possibility of some interesting "Final 4" matchups, like Kentucky-LSU; Auburn-Alabama; or Maryland-Duke; North Carolina-Wake Forest.

HUNTER'S EDUCATION

A bill that passed the Alabama Senate last week would require persons born after October 1, 1971, and 16 years of age or older, to present certification of satisfactory completion of an approved hunting education course at the time of obtaining any hunting license.

I'm not much of a hunter, but I think the law will help cut down on hunting accidents. The more hunters know about safety, the better we'll all be.

A LONG NIGHT AT A CONTEST

I went to the Miss Elba contest last week, thinking since there were only eight contestants it wouldn't last long, but much to my dismay, it somehow managed to last over 1½ hours. Oh well, at least there were pretty girls to look at.

ATHLETIC DEPT. TO HOLD BARBECUE

The Elba High School Athletic Department will sell barbecued Boston Butts next week in an effort to raise money to help cover the high cost of athletics. Tickets may be purchased at the school, from any player or any coach.

Tiger Baseballers To Play In 70-Inning Exhibition Game

The Elba Tiger baseball team will open its season on Saturday, March 24, when it competes in a 70-inning exhibition game with Enterprise and Ozark.

The game will be played in Enterprise, beginning at 9 a.m. with a pitching machine being used in all games.

Tickets to the game are $1.00 and may be purchased at the Elba High School or from any team member. Proceeds from tickets sold by Elba will go to the Elba team.

Prep All-Star Games Set For Friday Night

Major college signees Jeff Moore of Midfield and Eddie Collins of Keith will lead some of the state's finest prep basketball talent into the 32nd annual All-Star games March 16 at Fair Park Arena in Birmingham.

The doubleheader, sponsored by the Alabama High School Athletic Association in cooperation with the University of Alabama-Birmingham, will tipoff at 7 p.m. at Fair Park Arena with the A-2A squad. The 3A-4A contest will follow at 8:30.

The annual All-Star slam-dunk contests will be held prior to each game.

Moore, the 6-8 center who led Midfield to the Class 3A state championship last week, will play for the North 3A-4A team. The heretofore Midfield star, named the tournament MVP in 3A, has signed with Auburn. Collins, the 6-9 Keith star bound for UAB, will play for the South 3A-4A squad. His Keith team lost 50-57 to Midfield in the 3A finals when Moore tipped in a rebound at the final buzzer.

Other standouts on the 3A-4A North squad are 6-8 Reginald Turner of Shades Valley, Derrick Davis of Decatur and Greg Caudle of Butler.

Joining Collins on the South 3A-4A team are Andre Bruce, the 4A Most Valuable Player from champion Carver (Montgomery), and Tommie Spearman of Central (Phenix City).

Heading the North A-2A squad are Frank Sillmon, MVP in Class A of Billingsley, Jessie Cooper of South Macon and William Walker of Headland.

Eight of the outstanding prep basketball coaches in the state will be featured in the All-Star doubleheader.

Bad Weather Hampers Spring Football

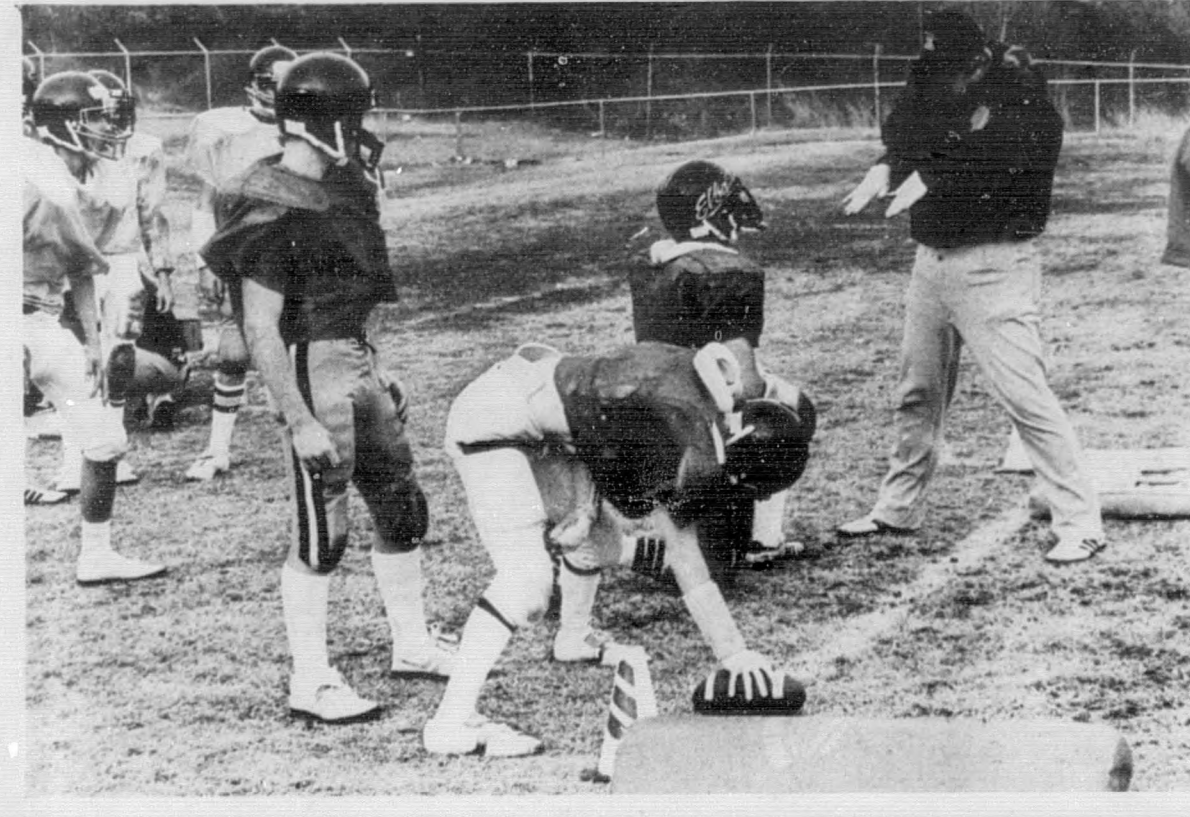

The Elba Tigers are taking a week off from spring football because of the AEA holidays, but the team will go back to work Monday, and Coach Mack Wood reports the team needs a lot more work.

"We had some bad weather last week," said Wood. "and even though we got outside three days, we're way behind where we need to be. The work last week wasn't as good as it should've been, and unless it picks up we may have to practice a couple of days after the Black and Gold game."

"On offense, we continued to work on fundamentals last week and worked on our passing game. The offensive line still needs some folks to step forward and it too is an area where work is needed."

"Over on defense we are continuing to work on fundamentals and did a lot of work on our straight defense. We've got an opening in the line, but our primary concern is to find backup help at key spots."

"In the remaining days," added Wood, "we'll work on the kicking game, as well as the offensive and defensive lines. We have a lot of work left to do!"

Willie Tyson Joins Staff At Alabama State

Willie Tyson, a former assistant coach at Elba High School and an assistant coach at Enterprise High School for the past three years, announced last week that he had accepted an assistant coaching position at Alabama State University.

"I'm looking forward to the move," Tyson said in a telephone conversation. "and I'm excited about the opportunity to coach on the college level. It will be a challenge, but I have had a series of challenges in my life and met them all head-on, and I will work hard and feel confident I can do the job."

"It will be an extra challenge at Alabama State because of the recent losing seasons," said Tyson.

"However, Coach Parker has been hired to turn the program around, and if anyone can do it, he's the man. He is a good coach and a class person, and I look forward to working on his staff. Alabama State plays in a tough league and the competition is tough every week. It will take a total effort from all involved to make the program go."

"I will coach the offensive line at Alabama State," added Tyson, "which is what I've always coached. The players will be older and more experienced in college, but you must be fundamentally sound to be successful, whether it's pee-wee or pro, and that will be our number one priority."

Enterprise," Tyson said, "it was a good place to work and I really enjoyed the people; however, I'll be returning to my alma mater and look forward to going back to Montgomery."

Tyson, a graduate of Elba High School, was a four-year starter at Alabama State in football and was one of the school's most highly honored athletes. He was named All-Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference three years, N.A.I.A. All-American two years, and the school retired his jersey number following his final game. He was also awarded the G.H. Lockhart award, the top award given to a student-athlete at Alabama State.
